The rolling Hill Country terrain offers great views from every location on the ranch. The north pasture has a gentle roll to level areas of topsoil. As you make your way to the south pasture, the views become even more vast and the rolling canyons are a little deeper as you fall off the southern rim of the Edwards Plateau. The seller has done the textbook amount of brush control creating the perfect habitat for the wildlife. Tree cover consists of many different species of native oaks, pinion pines, persimmon, mountain laurel and cedar. Two strong water wells provide water to the headquarters, an earthen pond and watering troughs throughout the ranch. 4 top-of-the-line rainwater collection guzzlers also provide water for the wildlife. The game fencing around the ranch is in “like new” condition. Property is fenced into 2 pastures (gates between pastures are currently open). Seller constructed a great perimeter road to make checking the fence easy. There are miles upon miles of GREAT ranch roads offering a smooth ride throughout most of the property. 8 nice hunting blinds make hunting comfortable.
